FIRST YEAR MEN SWAMP TENNESSEE FRESHMEN IN 2ND TILT OF SEASON

Fast Passing Game of Kittens Too Much for Southern Quintet.

NO INDIVIDUAL STARS.

Rats Make Only One Field Goal During Entire Fray

Fur flew in all directions last Saturday night in the University of Kentucky gymnasium when the Kentucky Kittens met and defeat the Tennessee Rats, 42-7 in a game featured by the passing of the Kentucky team. The Tennessee yearlings had been defeated earlier in the season by the Kittens and Saturday's contest only went to prove still farther that the Rats are not in the running with the Kentucky basketmen.

Tennessee got off to a lead over the Kittens when Goodman converted two fouls into counters, and the Kittens failed to score for several minutes after the first whistle sounded. Captain McFarland broke the spell, however, with a sensational basket. Kentucky again scored and from that time on the Kittens steadily drew away from the Tennessee yearlings. Tennessee scored but one field goal during the entire game, that coming about the middle of the first half when Goodman, who scored all of the points made by the Rats, dropped in a long range shot from midfloor. The rest of the Tennessee points were made by the free throw route.

Kentucky played a fast passing game throughout the whole of the 40 minutes and never attempted to shoot until the ball had been worked under the basket. They could have had many more shots had they not presented most wonderful passing exhibits.

PHI MU ALPHA PLEOING SERVICE HELD IN CHAPEL

Musical Program is Followed by Tapping Eleven New Members.

Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary musical fraternity, conducted the chapel exercises Tuesday. Assisted by the University band they presented a musical program which was followed by the pledging exercises. Those pledged were: Douglas C. Vest, Horace G. Brown, Paul Bicknel, C. Scott, Sam Adams, Prof. Pat O'Bannon, H. S. Jackson, W. True, E. J. Asher, William Pointz, Wickliffe Moore.

The musical numbers presented were all written by American composers, in accordance with the National Music week. The University quartette also sang several songs which were received with much enthusiasm.

Phi Mu Alpha was established on the University campus three months ago and this is the first pledging service held under the new fraternity. The men selected are taken for prominence in musical affairs of the University. Before one is eligible to be pledged to Phi Mu Alpha he must be a member of one of the recognized musical organizations on the campus. Namely, the band, Glee Club, orchestra or take part in one of the annual operas given by the Musical Department.

McFarland

Captain and forward of the Blue and White yearlings has no equal when it comes to handling the ball and tossing baskets. Mac has scored about half of the Kittens total points this year.

The cream of the High School quintets all over the State are expected to be on hand when the drawing takes place Friday morning and several fierce scraps are promised the spectators who view the tourney. Both boys and girls are entered in the classic, the boys playing in the men's gym and the lassies occupying the Armory until the semi-finals.

Sectional tournaments are scheduled to be held Friday and Saturday of this week and the winners of these tourneys are eligible to compete in the state tournament. Among the most formidable rivals for the state event are: Owensboro, Louisville Male and Manual, Flemingsburg, Hazard, Sam Adams, Prof. Pat O'Bannon, H. S. Jackson, W. True, E. J. Asher, William Pointz, Wickliffe Moore.

WILDCAT QUINTET ENDS SEASON WITH DECISIVE VICTORY OVER SEWANEE

Blue and White Team Has Easy Time Disposing of Tigers, 30 to 14.

FEST, BURNHAM SHINE.

Game Ends Basketball Careers of Three Kentucky Players—Wreckin' Crew Goes in.

The Wildcats closed their 1923 net season last Friday night with a 30 to 14 victory over the Sewanee quintet. Jumping into the lead a few minutes after the opening whistle, the Cats maintained their advantage throughout the entire game and held a 16-point margin of victory at the close of the contest.

The chief feature of the tilt was the work of "Dutch" Burnham at back guard and Captain Freddie Fest at center. Both stars played their last game for the Blue and White in the Sewanee scrap and both left a lasting impression on the throng of Cat rooters that gathered to bid the Cats adieu. Burnham, who can always be counted on to play a good game outdid himself in the Tiger clash. Captain Fest, inspired by the multitude, or perhaps it was an individual, easily played his best game of the season and can now retire with the knowledge that he has faithfully filled his obligations to Kentucky. The remainder of the squad, for all saw service in the scrap, acquitted themselves well in their final appearance. "Gibby" Smith, also making his final bow in a Cat uniform, played a stellar game the time he was in.

The Cats started in with a rush and soon went into a safe lead on field goals by Riesken and Fest. When the first half ended the Blue and White led 16-8. In the second period the Cats continued their offensive and when Coach Buchheit saw that his proteges had the game safely tucked under their belts, he let loose the "wrecking crew" which furnished amusing entertainment for the rest of the game.

Bailey and Shook were the luminaries for the invaders, the latter especially gaining distinction by his ex-

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA ISSUES QUARTERLY

Journalistic Fraternity Publishes First Issue of Magazine

The first issue of the Alpha Delta Sigma Quarterly organ of the professional journalistic fraternity which has headquarters in Lexington has been received by members and friends.

The current issue contains greetings from national officers, a message from Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education and an alumnus of the Henry Watterson chapter, University of Kentucky, reports from the chapters in eight colleges and universities, and other interesting matter.

The grand president of the fraternity, founded in 1913 at the University of Missouri, is Dr. A. St. Clair McKenzie, New York; Mr. Oliver N. Gingrich, St. Louis, is past grand president; Mr. Herbert Graham, Lexington, is grand secretary; and J. Owen Reynolds, Lexington, is grand treasurer.

TUSITALIA PLANS TO TAKE IN NEW MEMBERS

University Literary Club Conducts Literary Column in Local Newspapers.

Tusitalia, the University literary club, held a meeting last Friday evening at the home of Katherine Elliott on the Versailles pike. After the usual program and discussion a short social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held Friday, March 9, at the home of Mary Rogers in Bell Court. Plans will be perfected at this time for the selection of new members.

For several months a weekly column has been conducted in the Lexington Leader by members of the club, under the heading "Tusitalia." The organization seeks to develop talent among its own members and to foster and encourage literary effort among the underclassmen. The selection of new members is made to fill the places of those graduating this year.

Tusitalia was founded at the University as a purely literary club by the Scribblers, a similar organization among faculty members. It was known for a time as Junior Scribblers, but later decided on the name "Tusitalia," which means tellers of tales. Its membership is limited by the constitution to twenty, and these are chosen by recommendation of the English department or among those submitting literary productions of merit. Both boys and girls admitted.

Tuesday—"England Drifting to War and Victory."

Wednesday—"France."

KITTENS CLOSE SEASON WITH VANDERBILT TEAM HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Green and White Squad Can Add Southern Basketball Title to Triumphs by Winning

QUINTET IN FINE SHAPE

Largest Crowd of Season Expected to See Final Contest of Year.

The University of Kentucky freshman basketeers will play their last game as Kittens Saturday night when they meet the strong yearling squad from Vanderbilt. "Daddy" Boles, who has coached the Kittens for the past month, has sent his team at furious clip the last week so that the Green and White Freshmen will wind up the season with a perfect record. The Southern basketball title for freshmen teams falls to the Kittens if they defeat the Commodore yearlings.

The Freshman mentor will send in his strongest lineup. Captain McFarland will hold down his usual berth at forward with "Turkey" Hughes filling the other forward position. Will Milward or Underwood will star in the pivot position and Carey and Helm will be back at their regular guarding stations.

Carey's injury which has completely mended now, slowed him down in the Tennessee game, but the reliable backguard will be at his best Saturday. Carey's inability to start in the Rat game told on the team and the Kittens did not get to scoring until he and "Turkey" Hughes were put in at their regular stations.

The style of playing that has been shown by the Green and White squad has attracted larger crowds than the varsity tilts, and it is expected that the largest crowd in history will be on hand Saturday night to watch the team.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA TO GIVE FIRST CONCERT

Series of Concerts Planned to be Given in Chapel Sunday Afternoons.

Those who love music will have the opportunity of hearing the University orchestra Sunday afternoon, March 11, at 3:30 o'clock in the University chapel. This concert will be the first of a series of Sunday afternoon entertainments given by the orchestra this year; many will remember the excellent concerts given last year, which were well attended.

The standard of excellence has been made better by the acquisition of new talent. One of the features of the program will be a solo by Mr. Upham, tenor soloist of Christ Church Cathedral. Mr. Upham has only recently come to Lexington, and with his arrival the musical talent within the city has been greatly augmented.

It is hoped that all who can will attend these concerts. All are invited. Following is the first program to be presented:

"From the Highlands" - O. H. Langley
"Andante Cantabile" - Beethoven
"Merry Wives of Windsor" - O'N'colan
"Hungarian Rhapsody" - Liszt

PLAN FOR COMMENCEMENT

Suggestions From Alumni Are Sought for Re-union Features.

Entertainment of the visiting alumni for commencement is the problem now of the executive committee and the secretary. Class Day, the Senior Ball, Gridiron Dinner and the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association are on the schedule. Suggestions are requested from individuals and clubs for entertainment features.

Alumni Day was opened last June with a joint conference by colleges for alumni, faculty and seniors—the programs for the several colleges varied but all were popular. The business meeting, which followed, was adjourned for luncheon in Dicker Hall. A motor trip through the Blue Grass was then followed by formal teas and receptions by various organizations. The annual banquet was held in the evening at the Lafayette hotel.

New features are added every year. Those who will be Commencement visitors can get what they want by speaking now. Put your order in early.

WINN FUND GROWS

A check from J. I. Lyle, '96, for $200 represents the New York Club's quota for the Winn Coaching Fund. When the Lexington club completes its quota in the next few days, according to plans of President W. D. Hamilton, the fund will be complete except for a very small amount to be taken care of by miscellaneous subscriptions.

R. O. T. C. ADVANCES

Alumni Should Know About the Organized Reserves.

Growth of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in the University, formerly known as the Cadet Battalion, has been the most remarkable of any department. The advanced course graduated one officer in the first class, six in the second and should have fifteen in June. A proportionate increase has been reported from the 200 colleges and universities with similar units. There are 10,000 young Americans enrolled in these advanced courses with 3,000 to graduate this year.

Many alumni who served as officers in the World War are taking an active part in the work of the Organized Reserves. An onslaught by the pacifists last week in Congress was staved off partly through the efforts of University of Kentucky alumni—reserve officers. Proposed legislation would have practically eliminated the third component of the army as outlined in the National Defense Act of 1920, the Organized Reserves, the two others being the Regular Army and the National Guard. Every College man should become familiar with the scope of this Act and the development of the national defense under its provisions.

STUDENTS HUNT LOST ONES

Undergraduates Get Acquainted With Work of Alumni Association

Students of the University have been of great help in locating "lost" alumni and in the organization of alumni clubs, especially throughout Kentucky. They read the Alumni Page almost as eagerly as the alumni.

Officers of the Association, commenting on this situation have expressed great confidence in the future of the organization with such new blood coming into it.

The quizzing of candidates for state office and for members of the General Assembly, particularly with reference to legislation and appropriations for the University, has been undertaken by the students. Alumni committees and clubs also are active in this.

An alumnus of the University re-wrote the education sections of the platform of one of the candidates for Governor, wholly on account of the Alma Mater.

WOULD TOUR STATE

Dates During Easter Holiday Are Sought by Student Speakers.

A state-wide tour March 29 to April 3 is contemplated by members of the Student Speakers Bureau in the interest of the "Greater Kentucky" campaign.

These young men have appeared already before numerous chambers of commerce, civic clubs and conventions. They are working for the University, a better understanding of its work and problems on the part of the average citizen. They have attempted to show how the University is linked up with the success of the entire public school system.

Now—I can read the alumni notes with an untroubled mind. I enjoy every word of the Kernel though I must admit the only familiar names are in the alumni notes.

"The editorials are especially good and quite a credit. However, I do think the Kernel could have spoken more strongly on the tragedy of last week. It was written up on the front page of a Baltimore paper and is generally talked about as what you might expect from backwoods Kentucky.

It is a new and most uncomfortable situation for me to be ashamed of any University affair, but it surely seems like old mountain fued time to carry a loaded pistol to a dance. Times are pretty bad if it is felt to be necessary, or even excusable to carry firearms on the campus.

BUFFALO ENTHUSIASTIC

Senior Engineers Will Be Guests on Annual Inspection Trip

"A lot of enthusiasm was shown when we got the good news that we were to have the senior engineers with us this year. In less than fifteen minutes nearly $300 was raised by the fourteen alumni present for the banquet to be given to the boys.

"Prof. Daniels attended his first Alumni meeting and entertained us with a lot of tales and woes of a Prof. at a University. N. E. Perkins also attended his first meeting. He told us a lot of stories about the troubles of the '09 class while he was at the University.

"Our meeting started at 1 p. m. and lasted until after 4 o'clock. The last two hours being taken up by the members telling stories of olden days.

"Dr. Blumenthal, our president, had many good things to tell us about his visit to the University and especially with regard to athletics.

"Committees were appointed to make arrangements for the senior engineers, whom we are expecting here the first week in April."—Gilbert Frankel, Secretary.

Betwixt Us

The program for the next meeting of the Pulaski County Alumni Club, Friday, March 2, in Somerset, is an interesting one. There will be talks on Duty of Alumni and Alumnae to the Institution and Duty to the Student Body.

The Club is planning also to have some member of the faculty meet with them before the end of the school year, to speak on University matters generally. They are asking information also about prospective candidates for state offices, relative to their attitude toward the University, and planning missionary work in Stearns, a neighboring town.

"My conscience has been telling me for some time that I should send in some alumni notes but things have been buzzing so fast in my line that I have not been able to get to it any sooner.

"There are quite a few old U. K. people here now. Virginia Helm Hiller '20, is dividing her time so successfully between boys and books that each supposes a monopoly. She is working hard at her third year (the hardest of the four) at 1720 East Madison street.

"William (alias Woodrow) Wilson '21, is keeping his U. K. record in the second year, though he does come to the Nurses Home dances! Address 606 North Broadway.

"Reuben Pearlman '17, is a brilliant, sagacious fourth year medical student.

"Polly Prewitt and Nancy Anderson, both ex-22, are seasoned nurses and Martha ex-21. Polly's sister, entered this past Valentine's day.

"Wm. Curry Martin '16, M. D. '20 at Johns Hopkins, is still interne at Sydenham Hospital and is taking several courses in the school of hygiene.

"A. W. Armentrout '22 entered Johns Hopkins Medical School this fall. Address 708 North Broadway.

"My brother, George '16, M. D., Johns Hopkins, is at the Psychiatric Hospital, University of Iowa, Iowa City. His wife was Susanne Beitz and they have one son, four and one-half years old—George Sydney Sprague III.

"Fitzhugh Maclean, '16, is shooting up the ladder in railroad engineering with the Southern Railway, at Knoxville, Tenn. His home address is 1619 Magnolia Ave.

"I am having the most exciting part of my nurses training—my specialized work, such as operating rooms, dispensary, social service, etc. I expect to finish the middle of November next.

Now—I can read the alumni notes with an untroubled mind. I enjoy every word of the Kernel though I must admit the only familiar names are in the alumni notes.

regularly and was the best company

I had.

"J. S. Shaw, ex-06, is president of the J. S. Shaw Co., incorporated, Construction Engineer, Georgia Savings Bank Bldg., Atlanta. His residence address is 62 Fairview Road.

"Since leaving school I have been here and there working at my trade, and have spent two winters in California. I am settled down here now as my father has given me a half interest in the store, so I am completely satisfied for the first time in my life. Am going to try to get to Lexington for Home Coming next fall and want to bring Harry Abell, who is practicing medicine in Paducah, with me."—George R. Orme, ex-18, druggist, Marion, Ky.

C. B. Robinson, ex-24, is with the Keystone Lime Corporation of Millville, W. Va. His postoffice address is Charles Town, West Virginia, Jefferson county.

W. L. Campbell ex-24 is educational director at the Kentucky House of Reform, Greendale, Ky. He is enthusiastic about the work.

Vail Baldwin ex-24, is store manager, Baldwin Cocoa Coal Company, Rodgerfield, W. Va.

J. Will Stoll is president of the First & City National Bank, Lexington, Ky. In 1919 he was elected to the Kentucky Senate and served in the General Assembly of 1920 and 1922. He was leader of the delegation fighting for an increase for the University in the Senate in 1922. It was due largely to his untiring efforts that the bill allowing increased appropriations passed the Senate. He is known in many ways as a loyal and dependable champion of his Alma Mater.

No better record as an active member of the Alumni Association can be found than that of C. C. Curtis. Our records show that regularly each year, in May or June, his dues for the coming year reach this office. Just as steady is his record with the A. A. Housman Co., brokers, 20 Broad St., New York City. He is now cashier of the company. His residence address is 262 North Grove street, East Orange, N. J.

Thomas C. Kelley received his B. M. E. in '97 and his M. E. degree in 1906. From August 1897 until November, 1899, he was with Lane & Bodley Co., Cincinnati, O. From December, 1899, until February, 1901, with the I. & E. Greenwald Co., whom he left to enter the employ of the Mesta Machine Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., returning shortly to the former company in Cincinnati, where he remained until October, 1913. For one year he was with the Triumph Ice Machine Co., of Cincinnati. He then opened an office as consulting, designing and constructing engineer which he has successfully maintained to the present, at 605 Second National Bank Bldg. December 26, 1899, he married Cora Davenport; they live at No 35 Gilbert Apartments, Gilbert Avenue, Cincinnati, O.

Frederick L. Schneiter, who received a B. C. E. degree, used his training in "construction" for furniture making. For several years he was manager of the E. Q. Smith Company, at Evansville, Indiana. He is now secretary-treasurer of the Wertz-Klamer Furniture Company of that city. His residence address is 523 Adams avenue. He is president of the Evansville Alumni Club.

Marcus A. Dodson went into the banking business and for several years has been cashier of the Peoples Bank, Science Hill, Ky. He is vice-president of the Evansville Alumni Club.

GIRL BASKETEERS DOWN CHATTANOOGA CO-EDS

Kittenettes Lose First Two Games of Southern Trip; Come Back Strong in Last.

After dropping the first two games of their Southern trip, the University of Kentucky Kittenettes came back in the final game Monday night and conquered the Chattanooga co-ed basketeers on the Tennessee floor. The game was closely contested from start to finish and the scoring was neck and neck until the final whistle was sounded. The shooting of Miss Blanding and the floor work of Miss Potter featured the game while Miss Ingram, Chattanooga running guard, contributed with some of the flashiest work o' the evening.

Chattanooga got off to a lead but Kentucky ran close behind and the score kept almost even in a nerve-racking fashion. The Tennessee girls lead at the end of the first half, 10-0. Kentucky staged a rally in the second period and with but 30 seconds to play the Kittenettes lead their opponents by one point, the tally standing 19-18. Miss Blanding then put the game on ice when she rang a field goal just before the final whistle.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1923 HAS BEEN POSTED

Southern Trip Begins May 7; Cats to Meet Six Strong Teams

Daddy Boles, athletic director of the University has announced the following schedule for the Blue and White baseball squad for the season of 1923:

March 29—Georgetown at Georgetown.

April 6—Notre Dame here.

April 7—Michigan here.

April 12 and 13—Ogelthorpe here.

April 21—Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

April 28—Cincinnati here.

May 7 and 8—Tennessee at Knoxville.

May 9 and 10—Ogelthorpe at Atlanta.

May 11 and 12—Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

May 18—Georgetown here.

The two contests with Centre are still pending but it is a surety that the Colonels will play two contests with the Cats. "Daddy" Boles is negotiating with the University of Alabama for two scraps but it does not seem probable that the Crimson will be found on the Cat schedule this year.

The Southern trip, which begins May 7, will be the acid test for the Blue and White horsehide pounders, for the Cats will engage in six contests in as many days with three of the most formidable nines in the South. Ogelthorpe also has two contests with the Cats at Lexington, making a total of four scraps between the two schools on the diamond this year.

Notre Dame, Michigan and Cincinnati always have good teams and their appearances on Stoll Field should attract a great many spectators. Centre and Georgetown always fight hardest against the Cats, so the Blue and White squad will have a very stiff schedule ahead of them when they start warming up their "old soup bones" early next month under the supervision of Coach Cy Barger and Captain "Dutch" Burnham.

ROBERT BOYLE'S

A I R ~ P U M P

The "PRACTICAL" Alchemist and "THEORETICAL" Robert Boyle

THE alchemists wrote vaguely of "fluids" and "principles." Copper was potentially silver. Rid it of its red color and the "principle" of silver would assert itself, so that silver would remain. With a certain amount of philosopher's stone (itself a mysterious "principle") a base metal could be converted into a quantity of gold a million times as great.

This all sounded so "practical" that Kings listened credulously, but the only tangible result was that they were enriched with much bogus gold.

Scientific theorists like Robert Boyle (1627-1691) proved more "practical" by testing matter, discovering its composition and then drawing scientific conclusions that could thereafter be usefully and honestly applied. Alchemists conjectured and died; he experimented and lived.

Using the air pump Boyle undertook a "theoretical" but scientific experimental study of the atmosphere and discovered that it had a "spring" in it, or in other words that it could expand. He also established the connection between the boiling point of water and atmospheric pressure, a very "theoretical" discovery in his day but one which every steam engineer now applies.

He was the first to use the term "analysis" in the modern chemical sense, the first to define an element as a body which cannot be subdivided and from which compounds can be reconstituted.

Boyle's work has not ended. Today in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company it is being continued. Much light has there been shed on the chemical reactions that occur in a vessel in which a nearly perfect vacuum has been produced. One practical result of this work is the vacuum tube which plays an essential part in radio work and roentgenology.

"MODERN INDUSTRIALISM"

The Kernel can not refrain from expressing the pride it feels over the recently revised edition on "Modern Industry," written by Dr. Frank L. McVey, that has come off the press within the past few days. The first edition published several years ago was dedicated to Dr. Hadley, president of Yale University; the second edition is dedicated to Mrs. McVey, who died last year.

When one considers how all-embracing is this subject, it does not seem possible even to outline the forces at work. Modern industrialism may be said to be the essential of history, government and business, almost of life itself. When modern revolutionized society. In England this machinery came into existence it revolution began in 1760; in America in 1776. Between these years and the present have come rapid changes and with these changes a reorganization to meet the exigencies of the changed and specialized conditions. Rivalries between nations and business began and with these rivalries came the struggle for supremacy in the industrial world. The underlying causes of the World War were economic and the problems that face Europe and America today are largely connected with modern industrialism.

In this volume Doctor McVey traces this evolution in England, America, Germany and the East. It is a story that reads like a romance and to those unfamiliar with the science of economics it offers the explanation for past and present conditions. In fact it is an analysis of modern society in the light of the great changes of the last century. It is a story of cold and calculating business, sometimes depressing because of the finer things of life which do not seem to be represented in modern industrialism and this the author himself realizes when he expresses the hope that in twenty years there will be more "humanitarian interests" than is to be found today in the more sordid materialism of the modern industrial world."

The scope of the work can be seen at a glance at some of the chapter headings: Industrial Changes in England Since 1760; Industrial Evolution in America; The Rise and Fall of Germany; the Orient and the West; Extractive Industries; Transportation; Manufacture; Forms of Industrial Organization; Commercial Institutions; Industry and Taxation; Interference; Regulation; Government Ownership; the Widening Circle of Democracy in Industry.

Press dispatches throughout the country have published articles and reviews of the book during the past few weeks and the Kernel regrets that lack of space prevents our publishing these reviews that have been so complimentary to its author. Various textbooks and books of fiction have been written by members of the faculty and we feel sure that the request made by the publisher to the president of this institution of learning for a revised edition on "Modern Industrialism" is indeed a compliment to the University. We hope that this may be repeated as many of the faculty members have written books that are absolute authority and are now being used as textbooks in this and other universities and colleges.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

The following has been received by the Kernel from the office of Membership Director of American Association of University Women. It is worthy of the attention and serious consideration:

"If you are soon to be an alumna of your college—in other words, if you are a senior girl—you are probably wondering what you will ever do without the college associations, the organizations in which you have worked so long and interestingly. It isn't necessary to worry long over the matter for here is an organization just ready and waiting for you and your energies—the American Association of University Women. Your Alma Mater has met all the requirements of this association so that it is possible for you to become a member. This association offers an opportunity for you to make new friends with college women from 130 colleges of the United States, continue your old associations and find an outlet for all the energies you have left over from Commencement days. If you are planning to teach or enter one of the many professions, there may be a branch in your new home town, and you can at once find companions and make new friends. If you are interested in foreign study there are a number of fellowships offered. If you are planning to travel in this country or abroad there are club houses in various cities whose privileges may be yours upon certain conditions. If you are interested in meeting women students of foreign countries this is possible through the club houses which are being established gradually in the various capitals of these countries. You are able to have this opportunity because the A. A. U. W. is one of the seventeen national college associations represented in the International Federation of University Women. College women from these seventeen countries meet for an international Conference once in a year's and discuss the problems of education in their various countries. Most interesting acquaintances and friendships are formed in this manner.

"In your own country you are enabled to meet women of all ages at experiences and colleges and women in things that add culture and education to all phases of American life. Some of the most prominent and best known women in the country are members and are coming to regard the National Club House at Washington as the place for meeting other college women for conferences upon all possible subjects. Some of the nationally known women who are members are Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, Annette Adams, First U. S. Assistant Attorney General of the United States Judge Florence Allen, first woman judge; Lucille Atcherson, first woman secretary to embassy of the U. S.; Julia Lathrop, formerly head of the Children's Bureau of the U. S.; Jane Addams, of Hull House fame, Mrs. T. G. Winter, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Mary Wood Park, President of the League of Women Voters; Florence Wilson, Librarian of the League of Nations at Geneva; Alice Robertson, Representative from Oklahoma in Congress; Major Julia Stimson, head of the army of nurses; Julia Carliss Preston, State Superintendent of Schools of Washington; Grace Abbott, head of the Children's Bureau; and so the list could be continued to include musicians, artists, social workers, university trustees, deans of women, etc.; women in all phases of civic and professional life.

MODERN MIRACLE TO BE GIVEN IN LITTLE THEATRE

Play Written by Prof. Sax, Presented By Dramatic Class.

A mystery play with a surprise ending will be presented in "A Modern Miracle," by Prof. Carol Sax, Thursday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock to the class in Dramatic Production and its friends.

The play surrounds a letter so mysterious that the author is offering a prize of five dollars to any one solving its contents.

It contains many of the thrilling elements found in the famous Thirteenth Chair produced by the Strollers last year. Recently the production was presented to the Optimist Club with marked success.

The following is the cast in the order of their appearance:

Marion Clark ----- Flo Armentrout
Mrs. Clark ----- Virginia Shively
Dactor ----- E. M. Heavrin
Detective ----- Troy Perkins
Eleanor ----- Jeanette Lampert

"A Modern Miracle" will be one of a number of plays that will be examined by the class for constructive and dramatic merits. Many of the plays will be supplied from the class in play writing under Miss Frances Jewell. The class hopes to select six of the best plays for Little Theatre productions.

bition ever seen on the Kentucky gym floor. The only fault shown in the game of the Kittens was that of inaccurate shooting, the Kittens missing many crisp shots that should have gone through the hoops.

There were no individual stars on the Kentucky five, although "Turkey" Hughes was the only man who hit the basket consistently. The rest of the team played fast all the time and helped to give the capacity audience a rare treat. For the Rats, Goodman and Hannah, back guard, were strongest. Goodman did all of their scoring while Hannah excelled in taking the ball off the back board.

INTERCLASS TOURNEY
WON BY JUNIOR CLASSThird Year Men Take Champion-

Seniors

The Junior five cinched the championship of the interclass basketball tournament, by defeating the Seniors, Tuesday afternoon at the University gymnasium. The score was 15 to 6. In the other game of the afternoon the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen 16 to 2.

The Juniors experienced little difficulty in defeating the Seniors. Owing to the guarding of Powell and Siler the Seniors did not make a point during the first half. The half ended 9 to 0 in favor of the Juniors. Bayless making all of the points. During the second half the Seniors played a little more peppy and were able to make 6 points.

Near the end of the game the Seniors realized that long shots were their only hope and they resorted to this kind of playing. All through the game they played hard but were not able to hit the goal. McCormick and Fuller played best for the losers. The floor work of the Juniors deserves a great deal of praise.

The second game of the afternoon was a walk-away for the Sophomores. After the Juniors had cinched the championship the two teams decided to only play one half. Hendricks and Potter played best for the winners. Hendricks making half the points. Creech made the only goal for the Freshmen.

The summary of the games:

Juniors 15	Seniors 6

Announce New Sales PolicyBELIEVE MARGIN OF MARK-UP CAN BE LOWERED
BY SHORTENING SEMI-ANNUAL SALES PERIODS

The Kaufman Clothing Company announces that they will run their semi-annual season end sales for periods of only thirty days during this year, with the idea in mind to reduce the sales periods in 1924 to two weeks at the end of each season.

By eliminating as far as possible mark-downs during the sale periods they can sell clothes at a narrower margin of profit throughout the remaining forty-four weeks of the year. This plan has already been put into effect.

This year, the Kaufman Clothing Company is reducing its sale periods to one month at the end of the winter season and one month at the end of the summer season. No sales were held until January 20th and there was no attempt to reduce prices on Suits and Overcoats until that date.

REGULAR CUSTOMERS COME FIRST

The management of the store believes that the regular customers of the store who buy their clothing requirements during the season are entitled to more consideration than those who wait for sale periods so to take advantage of price reductions. More than ninety per cent of the business is done during regular seasons and the Company believes these customers are entitled to the utmost consideration and they should be given their clothes at the lowest possible margin of profit.

It was decided at a conference of the Executive Staff of the store that the company could eliminate sales as much as possible so that it would not be necessary to cut prices only during a few brief weeks during the year, the store could afford to make a smaller mark-up during the regular seasons.

This plan has been adopted and the Kaufman Clothing Company only held a thirty day sale at the end of the regular winter selling season. If the plan works out successfully, this year, it is proposed to reduce the sales period still further next year, and probably stage sales only during the two weeks at the end of the winter season and two weeks at the end of the summer season.

SALES A NECESSITY

Sales are a necessity, the store management explains because they give a merchant opportunities to close out his stock at the end of the season, but the Kaufman Clothing Company believes that stock can be closed during an intensive sale confined to a brief period without sacrificing the merchandise and without forcing customers, who buy during the regular season to pay higher prices in order to offset the losses which may be sustained during the sales periods.

TO MAINTAIN PRESENT PRICES IN FALL

"We do not expect, in the face of rising prices for fall and winter, to raise prices on the fall and winter lines," explained an official of the company. "The increase that we will have to pay to the manufacturer will be absorbed and we will offer our merchandise at a closer margin of profit, because we have arranged to reduce our cut price sale periods. Garments can be sold at a narrow margin of profit if regular prices are maintained during forty-four of the fifty-two weeks of the year. We are depending upon a big volume of business to take care of profits and will accept a smaller mark-up, and thus absorb the increase rather than pass it along to the consumer."

Movie directors, please copy

IN fiction and the movies all college men naturally fall into two groups. Those who pass their days and nights "Rah! Rah!"-ing and snake-dancing; and those who never appear except with evening clothes—and cane.

The man who works his way through college simply doesn't figure.

Taking care of a furnace, running a laundry, waiting on table, tutoring, covering for a city paper, working in shop or office in vacation—all this may be lacking in romantic appeal, but it is an essential part of the college picture.

And a valuable part. The whole college is the gainer for the earnestness of men who want their education that hard.

Valuable to the college, but even more to the men who travel this rough going. They learn an important lesson in Applied Economics—the amount of sweat a ten dollar bill represents.

If you are one of them you may sometimes feel that you are missing a good deal of worthwhile college life. If you are not, you may be missing a good deal, too.

RACHMANINOFF TO GIVE CONCERT AT WOODLAND

Master Pianist, Composer, Conductor to Appear Here Tuesday Evening, March 13.

When an artist attains distinction such as that won by Sergei Rachmaninoff, the Russian composer and pianist, the mere announcement that he is to appear on a certain date is usually sufficient to bring the lovers of his art thronging to hear him. One is, however, always tempted to add a word or two to the bare notice of Rachmaninoff's coming that those who have not yet come within the radius of his magic power may at least realize that here is an event not to be overlooked.

In most great artists one is aware of a distinctive personality. This is true of such persons as Paderewski, Kreisler, Farrar and is eminently so of Rachmaninoff. Simple and unassuming in manner, radiating sincerity from the moment he steps upon the platform, this genius of the pianoforte at once creates an atmosphere in which his audience becomes responsive to the appeal of his power and virtuosity. The artist and the man unite in a remarkable degree in the personality of Rachmaninoff.

Tickets are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music, and will be on sale in Ben Ali Theatre lobby Saturday morning, March 10, at 9 o'clock. Prices are $2.75, $2.20, $1.65, $1.10, war tax included. Season ticket marked "fifth concert" should be used for this, closing the concert of "Artist Series for this season.

LOVING CUP TO BE GIVEN
EACH MILITARY CLASS

Competition is Strong in Classes;
Business Concerns Donate Cherished Trophies.

A loving cup is to be presented to the highest ranking cadet of each of the four classes of the Military Department of the University, the selection being based upon the scholastic standing of the student. The cups will be presented by four of the leading business concerns of this city with the object in view of promoting scholarship.

Last year only two cups were presented, one to the highest ranking cadet of the advanced course, comprising the Senior and Junior classes, and one to the cadet making the best standing in the basic course, comprising the Sophomore and Freshmen classes. F. A. C. Thompson was awarded the cup for the advanced course last year and J. R. McClurk the cup for the basic course.

The competition for the procuring of the cup is very strong as shown the relative standing of the cadets striving for it at the close of the first semester.

U. K. RIFLE TEAM FINISHES
MARKSMANSHIP CONTEST

Standing of Team Not Known Yet;
Excellent Score Made.

The University of Kentucky rifle team finished firing in the competitive rifle marksmanship contest for the fifth corps area last Saturday. While the final standing of all the colleges entered is not definitely known it is probable that the excellent score of 5,463 points out of a possible 6,000 made by the Kentucky team will be surpassed by few, if any of the teams entered.

The highest individual score was made by F. A. C. Thompson of the Kentucky team with 564 points out of a possible 600, averaging 94. Captain Heath finished with a score of 558 or an average of 93. V. D. Johnson made the only perfect score ever made on the range, but as he was not officially firing at the time the score will not count in the match.

There has been a widespread interest in the rifle team this year and many new riflemen have been developed as shown by the fact that six out of the ten men composing the team were freshmen.

Captain J. E. Torrence who has been coaching the team since early fall, is largely responsible for the good work of the team. Captain Torrence has been connected with military work for several years and it is his ambition to turn out one of the best rifle teams in the country.

FEW STARS ARE SHOWN AT END OF NET SEASON

Georgetown Tigers Get Second Place by Percentage; Centre Undefeated in State.

The 1923 Varsity net season in Kentucky, which closed with the Georgetown Sewanee clash last Saturday night, failed to disclose but very few stellar performers of the court game. With the possible exception of the guards, none of the five major quintets of the state had any particular men that should really merit a place on the State honor roll.

Georgetown's Tigers, although in second place according to the percentage column, were really the best quintet in the Blue Grass state. The Orange and Black got off to a very poor start but improved steadily until in their last State game walked away with a long end of a 54-21 count against the Kentucky five. The Tigers displayed the only semblance of a real passing team that fought for the title this year.

Centre, with two victories over Kentucky and one win from Wesleyan, was undefeated in the State but the Colonels did not meet Georgetown and possibly are better off for that reason. Wesleyan defeated Transylvania after losing a hard fought contest to Centre. Kentucky, with one victory in four starts and Transylvania with two defeats, complete the list.

"Dutch" Burnham, University of Kentucky back guard was in all probability the most valuable man in the State. Playing with a quintet that won only three games in thirteen starts, the diminutive, yet powerful so well, that his name was on the Cat fought with such speed and guard-honor roll of practically every critic's selection. Jacoby, Georgetown pivot man, also came in for a large amount of praise and was easily the best center in the race.

On account of the dearth of stellar material, the Kernel confines itself in its selections to merely picking an honor roll and leaves the selection of a first five to the discrimination of its readers.

Sportsmanship

There is nothing in the world which leaves a more definite impression of the character of a college than the type of its sportsmanship. A college of good sportsmanship and not a college of good sports is the one which will really succeed. The Golden Rule should be practiced in all athletics. Always treat visitors as you would like to be treated. Remember, what you do will honor or dishonor your University.
